GREENSBORO, N.C. – A deserving champion in the real estate community was recognized for her contributions to the industry, recently receiving the GRRRA’s Elaine H. Ernest Visionary Leadership Award.

Andrea Bushnell was named the 2025 recipient of GRRRA’s Elaine H. Ernest Visionary Leadership Award, at GRRRA’s annual Installation Luncheon, on Tuesday, Jan. 7.

This award honors a person from the Greensboro Regional REALTORS® Association – or the community-at-large – whose ideas, research, actions and leadership have created a positive impact on the Guilford, Randolph and Rockingham County development communities.

Ms. Bushnell is currently the CEO of NC REALTORS®, a position she has held since 2010. She has led the growth of NC’s largest trade association to more than 57,000 REALTORS®.

Ms. Bushnell has more than 20 years of experience as an association executive – and as general counsel – for state REALTOR® associations. Since 2010, Ms. Bushnell has been working to improve the real estate industry in North Carolina – and helped her organization be the industry’s leading voice.
